

Creating aesthetic solutions customized to specific needs

INTERIOR DESIGN AND ARCHITECTURE

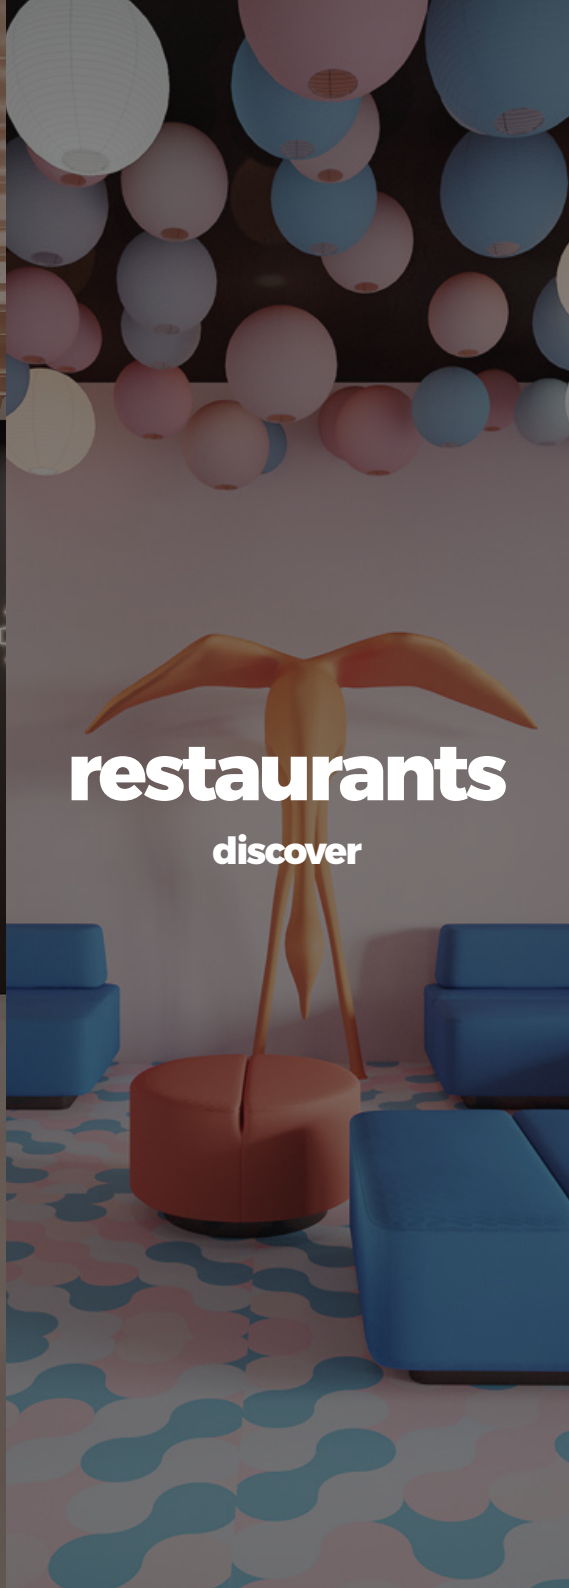

we use our expertise in materials science and sustainable interior design to create solutions for the future of the

workplace

discover

restaurants

discover

retail

discover

living

discover

workplace

Quality workplace environment is the brand image, identity of the company, its history and its values.

soft industrial

A concept for industrial office space with lots of wood and plants. Interesting details that give the place a unique character.

Architect: Natalia Juszczuk, Zuzanna Andrychowicz

Year: 2022

Area: 800 m<sup>2</sup>

Grodzisk Mazowiecki, Poland

green futurism

A concept for industrial office space with lots of wood and plants.
Interesting details that give the place a unique character.

Architect: Natalia Juszczuk, Zuzanna Andrychowicz

Year: 2023

Area: 700 m<sup>2</sup>

Grodzisk Mazowiecki, Poland

Changing offices is always a logistical challenge. And when you change the surface to twice the size and expand the function, it is a double challenge. Everything has been cut and matched every inch.

Architect: Natalia Juszczuk, Zuzanna Andrychowicz

Year: 2018

Area: 105 m<sup>2</sup>

Pruszków, Poland

comic book & relax

A little colour and life in the corporation. Even a small change significantly affects the comfort and quality of work.

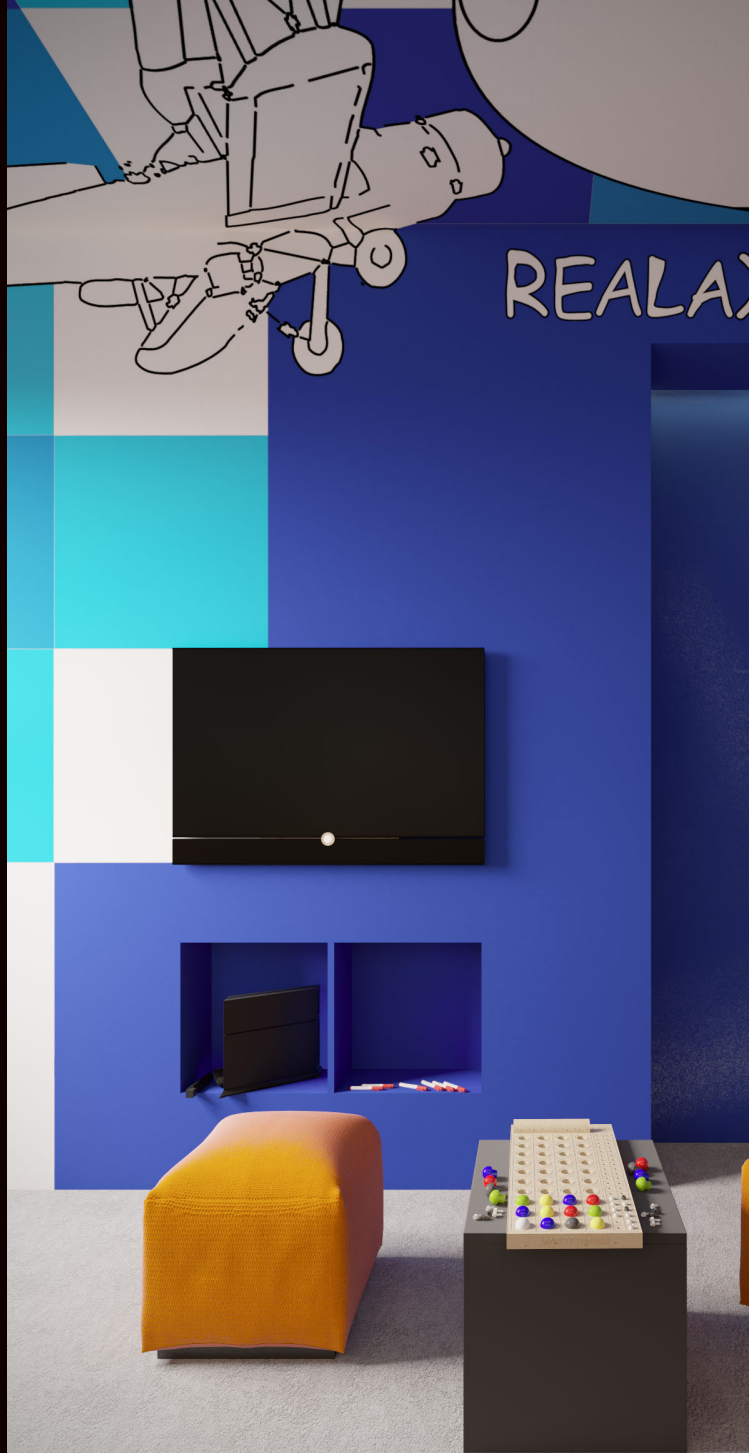

Architect: Natalia Juszczyk

Year: in progress 2017

Area: 60 m<sup>2</sup>

Chorzów, Poland

restaurants

The design of the interior is important for the meals served, the whole creates the soul of the restaurant space.

playroom. not only for little ones

A unique space to relax and have fun with Japanese vibes. For visitors who are young and young at heart.

ArArchitect: Natalia Juszczyk

Year: 2020

Area: 85 m<sup>2</sup>

Nowy Świat, Warsaw, Poland

three in one

Three restaurants under one roof. New ideas, unusual menu, Japanese atmosphere. Connecting people.

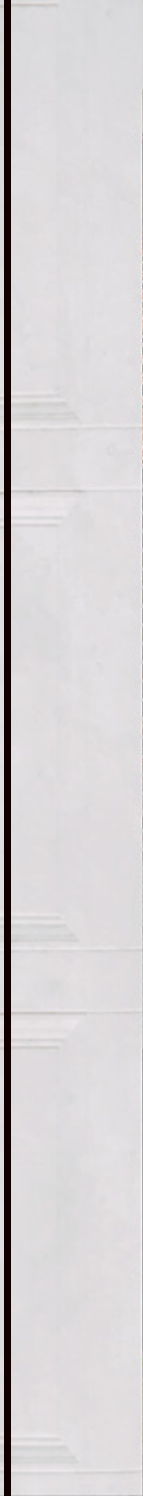

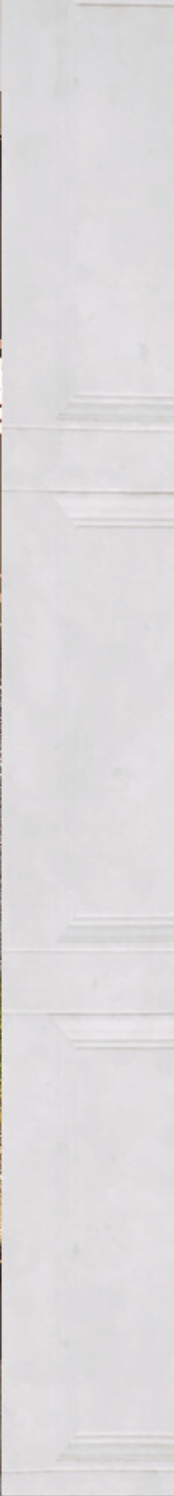

Architect: Natalia Juszczyk

Year: 2020

Area: 150 m<sup>2</sup>

Nowy Świat, Warsaw, Poland

living

living space for different scenarios of your life

A new concept of an open space apartment. Dividing the entrance area from the daytime part with glass pillars. The apartment is decorated with Vietnamese accessories, which remind the owners of their place of origin.

Architect: Natalia Juszczuk, Zuzanna Andrychowicz

Year: 2020

Area: 90 m<sup>2</sup>

Warsaw, Polandd

house with unusual wood

A project's full of unusual and exclusive solutions such as using czeczot veneers or corrugated conglomerates. Original Italian lighting complements these warm interiors.

Architect: Natalia Juszczyk

Year: 2017

Area: 120 m<sup>2</sup>

Radomsko, Poland

on the journey

Countless souvenirs from travels around the world. The rest is just a background to highlight them. Warm tone. And also the possibility of changing the arrangement.

Architect: Natalia Juszczuk, Zuzanna Andrychowicz

Year: 2020

Area: 200 m<sup>2</sup>

Warsaw, Poland

raw form

The apartment is maintained in raw aesthetics. Original lamps, radiators and elements made of natural raw materials, such as the kitchen island or coffee table, are important elements that give a slightly industrial atmosphere. The natural stone wall in the bedroom is an original and distinctive detail. The whole creates a soft industrial but cozy interior.

Architect: Natalia Juszczuk, Zuzanna Andrychowicz

Year: 2018

Area: 45 m<sup>2</sup>

Warsaw, Poland

